High School Chatter....

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen; here's the up-to-the-minute news from A. H. S.

Last Sunday was Easter as you all know and we saw many friends in the Easter Parade to church. We feel that spring is really here because spring clothes in pastel shades have now made their debut. Back at school on Tuesday we looked around and saw Easter corsages in every direction. Alice was happy with her corsage even if the giver couldn't get her for Easter—Virginia Herndon had pretty lilies man roses. Mildred Morgan's red roses certainly were pretty—Eleanor likes gardenias—Sally Lou had beautiful pink carnations—Geraldine had pink carnations— Phyllis Wright and Murrell Millner were sporting red roses— The teachers showed up with beautiful corsages, too.

The tenth grade gave a very successful Canteen Party on Thursday night, with a large crowd attending. Some of the alumni there were: Dick and Joyce Wingfield, Billy Coleman, Shirley Stanley, (bet Alfred Ray was happy), Billy Wheeler and Patsy Booth. We were glad to have Elizabeth Peters with us, too.

A. H. S. has a real treat in store Friday, April 29, at 8:00, when the Senior Players will present "Dear Ruth," a play which was presented on Broadway and also made into a movie.

The Lynchburg District of the Student Cooperative Association will meet Friday, April 29 at Madison Heights. A. H. S. is asked to provide a discussion group leader and a speaker on the topic, "Our Most Important Activity." Dick Marks, president of our S. C. A., will lead the discussion group and Alfred Ray Gordon will discuss the Clean-Up campaign. All four S. C. A. officers and four representatives are asked to attend this meeting.

Just about everyone is getting or has gotten measles. Lewis Harvey was joking last week in geometry when he showed everyone his arm and said that he was breaking out with measles. Everyone laughed then, but the next morning when they found out that he really had measles, no one felt like laughing then.

Some baseball fans went to Brookville Friday to see our boys play but to their surprise they found out that the teams had decided to play in Appomattox. It was a swell game, but we lost 13 to 12. Cumberland went down in defeat against our team Tuesday, by a score of 12 to 5.

Our personality last week was Mildred Wood. The character this week is a handsome boy (hang on to your girls, boys!). He is a blond with blue eyes—is five feet eight inches tall. Likes baseball and girls. His ambition: to be a home- run king. One last hint: he played ball for the Lee Theatre team Sunday. You must have guessed him by now.

This is your A. H. S. reporter signing oe 'til next week.

Lee Theatre Bail Team Adds Players

Lee Theatre opens its home baseball schedule here on Sunday, playing Charlotte C. H., of Patrick Henry League at 3:15.

Most of last year's championship club will be back again this year, according to manager J. C. Caldwell. Only Robert Toney, Dick Tate of the regulars and Nick Leftwich and David Campbell, utility players, have left the team.

New players added include: Gerald Torian, star pitcher of the '47 team; Ray Leister, right handed pitcher; "Rut" Moon, pitcher and infielder; Jim Cobb, utility player, of Pamplin; Charlie Mitchell and Billy Bobbitt, local high school players.

The probable line-up will be:

Berry and Robertson, catchers; Horton, Torian ; Bragg and Leister, pitchers; St. Clair or Cobb, first base; R. C. Paxton, second base; Putney, short stop; Bill Lea, third; Vernell Mitchell, Joe Overman, Click McKenna and Harry Tucker, outfield.

There will be 35 or 36 home ball games this year. Three Sunday afternoon games will be played, and all others at night.

The first night game is with the Hampden-Sydney College team on Monday, May 2, 8 P. M.

The Skyline League, with 6 teams is reportedly stronger than last year. A meeting will be held Friday night to consider taking in two clubs from three applications: Covington, Clifton Forge and Roanoke Colonial Club.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Business Women's Circle of the Evergreen Baptist Church, is sponsoring a variety party, which will be given at Evergreen school house on Saturday night, April 23.

Some of the features will be a men's beauty contest, and fish ponds. Also a bazaar, consisting of little girls' dresses, pot holders, aprons, little boys' shirts, and other useful articles.

Come early and get supper, as there will be sandwiches of all kinds, pie, cake, home-made candy, cold drinks and coffee, on sale by 6 P. M. A free-will offering will be taken at the door. Proceeds go to remodeling fund of Evergreen Baptist Church.

Mrs. George Carson, Mrs. D. P. Moon, Mrs. Wesley Martin and Miss Margaret Moon were joint hostesses at an Easter Egg hunt on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carson. About 75 guests were present. All enjoyed the occasion very much.

Mayor of Shimonoseki Sends Greetings From Japan

The Mayor of Shimonoseki, Japan, says his city has much in common with Appomattox, Va., USA.

Each is a "peace city" scene of the ending of a war. And each had its "peace house" demolished. The McLean House at Appomattox was torn down in 1892, and only recently rebuilt. It is the spot where Generals Lee and Grant made peace in 1865. The peace house in Shimonoseki, the "Shunpan Ro," was demolished in an air raid July 2, 1945.

The Mayor of Shimonoseki, Japan wrote the following letter to Mayor George B. Buchanan, of Appomattox:

Shimonoseki City, April 4, 1949.

Dear Sir,

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your esteemed favours of February 18, 1949, with thanks, and a valuable souvenir reached to me, in a good condition, on the 4th April. The valuable plate is the most suitable article to decorate the Shimonoseki City Hall.

As you are aware, the Chinese-Japanese War Peace Treaty was signed in Shimonoseki on the 17th April, 1895. I quite agree with your advocacy, and express my appreciation for your kind effort for the World Peace, and will cooperate with your movement.

During the hateful War, the memorial Peace house, "Shunpan Ro" was ruined, with many other buildings and civilian houses in the City by the Air-raid of July 2nd, 1945. Therefore, we can not see any more the house, which once Peace was made, however, fortunately I have its old picture, so reproduced the same, and have honour to present to you a copy, with the portraits of the delegates to the treaty.

Our Shimonoseki is one of the principal foreign trade ports of Japan, so will contribute for further development of foreign trade as well as the World Peace which are origin of happiness and prosperity of mankind.

I hereby, representing 200,000 citizens, express sincerity to Mr. Mayor and your citizens, and hope that you will render your services for the World Peace.

Yours faithfully, Moriji Matsuo, The Mayor, City of Shimonoseki, Japan.

Want To Read Some German?

Anybody in the house from Zurich? Zurich, Switzerland, that is.

Got a letter want you to read.

Last week Mayor G. B. Buchanan received a letter and a bronze souvenir from Zurich. It was in reply to the letters and souvenirs recently sent out from Appomattox to Mayors of "peace cities" all over the world. He says that the places where peace was made after a war have something in common. That something, however, is not a common language! The Zurich letter and the inscription on the bronze medalion were in German. If you will translate them for the Appomattox, come forward!

Quota $25,000 In Bond Drive

Joel W. Flood, U. S. Savings Bond Chairman for Appomattox County, announces the quota of "E" Bond sales of $25,000. The chairman advises that the quota for the Opportunity Drive concerns E Bond sales only. The Opportunity Drive will run from May 16 through June 30.

County and city chairmen were honored Tuesday by Governor Tuck at a banquet in Richmond. Governor Tuck paid high tribute to the volunteer chairmen. He called upon all Virginians to support the drive to the best of their ability. He added, "it should not be necessary to observe that buying Savings Bonds is a good investment.

Cub Scouts Paper Drive

Cub Scout Pack 46, of Appomattox has announced a paper drive to be held Saturday, April 23.

The Scouts will collect paper, magazines and coat hangers. They request that paper and magazines be tied in bundles. This drive ties in with the annual spring cleaning campaign.

EASTER PARTY

Evergreen, April 19.- An Easter party was given Miss Bessie Ann Glover by her mother, Mrs. Howard Glover and two sisters, Misses Eulalia and Elnora Glover Monday afternoon at her home. Those present were all in her class in the third grade in school, namely: Jackie White, Peggy Wilbun, Patricia Farrar, Barbara Goin, and Sannie Womack. Others present were: Misses Gladys, Jean and Majorie Womack, Mrs. Louise Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilbun and little daughter, Sandra Wilbun; Neil Farrar, Misses Elizabeth, Shirley and Ann Hodges, Juanita Harris, Newton and Edward Womack. They had a good time hiding and looking for Easter eggs; played lots of games, and afterwards were all invited in to the dining room where refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served.

MR. T. H. ROBERTSON

Thomas Henry Robertson died in a Lynchburg hospital early April 8th. He was born in Appomattox County June 12, 1884, the son of the late Eldridge and Ann Johnson Robertson. Mr. Robertson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nathalie Coleman Robertson; three sons, Herman Robertson, of Livingston; Ernest Robertson, of Newport News, and Walter Roberson, of Washington; two daughters, Mrs. Daisy Hamilton, of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Percy Thompson, of Appomattox; and a brother, George Robertson, of Appomattox.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 4 P. M. from the Liberty Chapel Baptist Church. Interment was in the church cemetery. Active pallbearers were: A. J. Kyle, D. N. Robertson, Johnnie Carenfix, Fred Robertson, Russell Chernault, and Tommy Harvey.

FARMERS FAVOR FCIC COST FEATURE

"Thirty-two years is a long time to go without losing a crop of tobacco," commented C. C. Harvey, AGA Committeeman and leading tobacco producer of this county, "but my coverage in a single year is equal to what I'd pay inpremiums in that long period under the Federal Tobacco Crop Insurance policy. Personally, I'm not willing to gamblt that I'll make a crop for thirty-two years straight. But that's what I would be doing if I failed to take out this insurance. It's certainly the best policy I've seen. Besides, it is all-risk coverage and cheap, too."

Mr. Harvey's remarks are similar to those made by many other local producers, as reported by agents now canvassing the county on the Federal Tobacco Crop Insurance sales campaign. Here in Appomattox County the policy protects the investment to $175.00 per acre for an annual premium of only $5.30 per acre on dark-fired tobacco and to $230.00 per acre for an annual premium of only $7.60 on flue-cured tobacco.

Farmers may find out more about this policy from the County Agricultural Conservation office.

Bank Deposits Are At Record High Figure

Despite reports of an easing off business conditions and tightening of money in circulation, the fact is that total deposits in the two banks here are larger than they were a year ago. Combined deposits were $121,663.96 larger on April 11 this year than they were in April of 1948.

According to financial statements as of April 11, 1949, the two banks here had total combined deposits of $3,099,274.50 and combined assets of $3,345,243.90.

Each of the two banks had an increase over figures for a year ago.

State Auto Inspection To Begin In May

Richmond, April 20.- Semi-annual maintenance inspection of Virginia's 800,000 motor vehicles will take place between May 1 and June 15 at 1700 officially-designated inspection stations, Col. C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police announced today.

Owners of all motor vehicles registered in the State, including motorcycles, are required by law to submit their vehicles to this inspection and no such vehicle may be operated in Virginia unless it bears the official inspection sticker.

This month will see the conclusion of a series of 42 meetings for the instruction of mechanics who will perform the inspections. Attendance at one of these meetings conducted by the State Police, is required before a mechanic can be registered. Visual education, in the form of a sound-slide film, made by the State Police, is in use for the first time in preparation for the current inspection.

Col. Woodson stated that the cooperation of garage owners has been gratifying and that between 7000 and 7500 mechanics will be approved and registered.

He pointed out that accidents resulting from mechanical defects are the most inexcusable of all in that motorists have ample warning that their vehicles are not in first-class condition and the opportunity to correct this condition before it results in an accident.

According to latest statistics, he said, accidents resulting from mechanical defects in Virginia stand at eight per cent of total accidents as compared with 15 per cent for the nation and that, during the last inspection period, more than 52,000 rejections were noted.

Management Course Offered

A 10 hour course, "How to Supervise an Employee," will be offered to interested business men of Appomattox and vicinity, according to an announcement made through J. A. Burke, Sup't. of Schools.

The course, which will be directed to managers, sales supervisors and owners, will be given under the auspices of the school, with assistance from the department of Distributive Education of the State Board.

The first meeting will be held on Monday, May 2, at 7:30 at the local high school. Dates for succeeding classes will be decided upon then.

Mrs. Josephine Blankenship, of the Distributive Education Division will instruct the course.

"How to supervice an employee" covers five broad management-employee relations. These are: building employee morale, introducing an employee to his job for quick adjustment, keeping employees interested, correcting mistakes, and handling grievances.
